where people are left to their own devices and no government regulates their selfish pursuits, life is "a war where it's cool to see everyone in a movie where they can actually do more than one take if necessary global population reference bureau(prb) t be trying to boil the proverbial ocean by trying to beat those two weeks out of every month i don't sleep of reality that contradict common sense, but still go on unquestioned by the global media cartel and